About me.

I consider myself a dynamic and decisive person with a great learning capacity. I approach design by blending technical and creative thinking that allows me to adapt to different departments and roles.

Using my foundation in UX/UI and graphic design, I now specialize in working in digital spaces. Creating dashboards (Looker Studio, Power BI, Tableau, ...) and mockups that would promote effective storytelling and engage the audience to interact with data.

My experiences extend to product design consultancy, Conversion Rate Optimization projects (CRO), A/B Testing, and branding; having worked on my business, with start-ups and for larger companies (Decathlon, ISDIN).

I love what I do – play with visuals, design trends, and above all else, cold beers.

Some skills.
